DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-14 and 16-44 are pending. Claims 1, 5, 7-14, 18, 20, 21, 23, 28, 29, 32-36, and 41-43 have been amended, claim 15 has been cancelled, and claim 44 has been added in this communication filed 5/14/08 entered as Response After Non-Final Action and Request for Extension of time.
2. The claim objection for claim 15 has been overcome by the cancellation of claim 15 making this claim objection moot.
3. The new ground(s) of rejection is necessitated by the amendments to the claims as set forth here below.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-14 and 16-31, drawn to a method for storing in a data store in operative connection with a computer data corresponding to a plurality of users, sensing with a reading characteristic feature of a user adjacent to the automated financial transaction apparatus, determining from the data store through operation of the at least one computer responsive to the at least one characteristic feature sensed, and moving through operation of the computer a display screen of the automated financial transaction apparatus with a moving device, classified in class 235, subclass 379.
- II. Claims 32-37, drawn to an automated financial transaction apparatus with a reading device operative to sense at least one characteristic feature usable to identify a user, a movable mounted display screen, a computer in operative connection with the reading device, the movement mechanism and a data store, and the computer operative to cause the movement mechanism to move the display screen, classified in class 705, subclass 43.

- III. Claims 38-43, drawn to an automated financial transaction apparatus with a device operative to receive data, a display screen, and a computer in operative connection with a data store with the data store including data representative of a plurality of characteristic features, classified in class 345, subclass 156.
- IV. Claim 44, drawn to an automated financial transaction apparatus with a display screen, a computer with the computer operative to permit an authorized user to carry out a transaction, and the computer operative to cause the display screen to be moved to a determined display screen position, classified in class 348, subclass 14.09.

Inventions I, II, III and IV are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different designs, modes of operation, and effects (MPEP § 802.01 and § 806.06). In the instant case, the different inventions have different scopes, furthermore they have different modes of operation thus yielding different effects and are not of capable of use together for the reason set forth.

Restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper because all these inventions listed in this action are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious search and examination burden if restriction were not required because one or more of the following reasons apply:

- (a) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification;
- (b) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art due to their recognized divergent subject matter;
- (c) the inventions require a different field of search (for example, searching different classes/subclasses or electronic resources, or employing different search queries);
- (d) the prior art applicable to one invention would not likely be applicable to another invention;
- (e) the inventions are likely to raise different non-prior art issues under 35 U.S.C. 101 and/or 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected invention.

If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable upon the elected invention.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-14 and 16-43 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
